RE: Application Number 10/692,209
Filing Date: 10/23/03
First Named Applicant: Scott P. Saunders

Dear Sir or Madam:

This letter is written to request that no Extension of Time Fees be charged to the Hewlett-Packard ("HP") deposit account with respect to HP's failure to respond to a Notice to File Missing Part of Nonprovisional Application in the above-referenced case, and accordingly would state the following:

1. HP has no record that the attached Notice to File Missing Parts of Nonprovisional Application was ever received at the mailing address specified by HP (Hewlett-Packard Company, Intellectual Property Administration, P.O. Box 272400, Fort Collins, CO 80527-2400) with the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO");
2. After sufficient time had lapsed, HP inquired as to why it had not received the Filing Receipt only to learn that the Notice was outstanding.
3. On November 1, 2004, upon learning that there was an outstanding Notice, HP requested that the Notice be faxed to its office, at which time it became apparent that the USPTO did not charge the account for the correct "additional claims" specified in its Application Transmittal.
4. Attached is a print out of HP's deposit account balance on the date in question (October 29, 2003) and also the account charges for the above-referenced Application. HP's account had sufficient funds. These documents will verify that not only were the funds sufficient, but that the transmittal relating to the claims requested that 2 additional claims, not 1, be charged to HP's deposit account. In addition the transmittal authorizes additional charges if applicable.
5. No extension of time should be charged because the error(s) were not due to HP. Thus, HP should not be penalized for the lapse of time involved.
